

2E-EDUC 3 – PRINCIPLES AND METHODS OF TEACHING

AY 2026-2027 Term 1

Worksheet 1- Competency Survey on the Philippine Professional Standards for Teachers (PPST) Beginning Teachers and Action Planning

Name: Rose Marianne Louis M. Gardoce

With teaching experiences/ How many years: 5 years

Subjects taught: English

Level: (Elementary/ Secondary/College): ESL

Without teaching experiences: N/A

Date submitted: 7/2/2026

Description

The checklist below contains a list of competencies/indicators covered by PPST Domains 1, 3, 4 and 5 and corresponding strands under the Beginning Teacher Category. For each indicator, there are four possible levels of competency (i.e. Novice, Apprentice, Practitioner, and Expert). You will use this matrix to assess your perceived level of competency prior to studying the course. Please tick (/) what best describes your perceived level of competency then accomplish the summary table and answer the reflections below.

Part II. Reflections

1. Overall, how did you fare? Which Domain/Strand you perceived that you are strong at (Practitioner/Expert)?

Overall, my self-assessment indicates that I am still in the “Novice” stage in most of the domains, highlighting the need for further learning, training, and professional development. While this suggests that I still have much to improve, it also provides a clear direction for the competencies I need to strengthen as I continue to strive for growth in my teaching career.

Among the domains, I perceive Domain 3 as my strongest area, although I cannot rate myself to be at the “Practitioner” level. This stems from my approximately five years of experience in the ESL industry, during which I taught learners from different nationalities with varying levels of English proficiency, cultural backgrounds, and learning styles. These experiences have enabled me to adapt my teaching strategies, communicate effectively with diverse learners, and create engaging learning environments that respond to students' individual needs. Although I recognize that there is still room for growth, I believe that my practical teaching experience has provided me with a solid foundation in this domain and has prepared me to continue developing toward the Expert level.

2. Which Domain/Strand you perceived that you are Weak at (Novice/Apprentice)?

(All documents without the PNU QM Stamp or Control Identifier are uncontrolled)

I would like to deepen my knowledge and understanding of Domain 3: Curriculum and Planning, as I have not yet had the opportunity to work in the formal academic setting. Although my experience in the ESL industry has allowed me to design lessons based on learners' needs, I have had limited exposure to developing and implementing a curriculum that aligns with educational standards and learning outcomes.

I believe that a well-designed curriculum serves as the backbone of effective teaching because it provides a structured, coherent, and standardized roadmap for learning. Reflecting on my teaching experience, I realize that my lessons have often been tailored to immediate learning objectives rather than being anchored to a comprehensive curriculum. By strengthening my knowledge in this domain, I hope to improve my lesson planning, ensure better alignment between learning objectives, instructional strategies, and assessments, and ultimately provide more meaningful and systematic learning experiences for my future students.

3. What are your insights about the competencies expected of a Beginning Teacher in relation to your perceived competency and your desire to becoming a Proficient Teacher?

The competencies of a Beginning Teacher have given me a clearer perspective on what effective teaching truly involves. I used to think that mastery of the subject matter and a genuine passion for teaching were enough, but I have realized that effective teaching goes far beyond these. Comparing these expectations with my self-assessment has allowed me to recognize both my strengths and the areas that still need further development. Although my experience as an English specialist and in the ESL industry has equipped me with valuable teaching skills, such as adapting lessons to diverse learners and communicating effectively, I recognize that these experiences alone are not sufficient to meet all the competencies expected of a Beginning Teacher in the formal education system. These insights have strengthened my desire to become a Proficient Teacher.

4. How will address your weak areas? What are your planned activities? Complete the table below.

Reflections:

Prepare a written text of 300-500 words, explaining the importance of Continuing Professional Development (CPD) that you will undertake to ensure that you reach the Proficient Teacher Category (Career Stage 2), who is professionally independent in the application of skills vital to the teaching and learning process: able to provide focused teaching programs that meet curriculum and assessment requirements; able to display skills in planning, implementing, and managing learning programs; actively engage in collaborative learning with the professional community and other stakeholders for mutual growth and advancement; and are reflective practitioners who continually consolidate knowledge, skills and practices.

A Lifelong Commitment to Learning

Having been in the teaching industry for several years, I have witnessed the ever-changing demands of education and the continuous need to maintain high-quality teaching that shapes the future of learners. As an aspiring Professional Teacher who aims to reach the Proficient Teacher Category, I believe that Continuing Professional Development (CPD) is essential in helping me continuously enhance my knowledge, teaching skills, and professional values.

Based on my self-assessment, I clearly recognize the need for continuous learning to strengthen my competencies in curriculum planning, assessment, and standards-based instruction. While my experience as an English Specialist in the ESL industry has equipped me with valuable instructional and communication skills, I understand that there are still areas that require further development, particularly in the context of formal education.

Through the learning opportunities provided by CPD, I will gain deeper insights from experts in the field of education, observe best practices in real classroom settings, and develop a stronger understanding of effective curriculum implementation and assessment. These experiences will equip me with the competencies necessary to plan, implement, and manage learner-centered programs that meet curriculum standards while addressing the diverse needs of students.

Moreover, CPD will enable me to stay current with emerging educational trends, innovative teaching strategies, and technological advancements that can improve the quality of my instruction. It will also encourage me to collaborate with fellow educators, engage in reflective practice, and continuously evaluate and improve my teaching. These experiences will not only help me become more effective in my current role as an educator but will also enhance my professional reputation, increase my confidence, and expand my future career opportunities.

Having a full-time job while pursuing Continuing Professional Development (CPD) is undoubtedly challenging. Despite my busy schedule, CPD inspires me to exert extra effort, make personal sacrifices, and dedicate unwavering focus to becoming the best educator I can be. I believe that every hour I invest in my professional growth is an investment in my students' future. More than simply educating learners, I aspire to inspire them. I want to encourage them to believe in their abilities, pursue their dreams with confidence, and realize their full potential. I hope to be the kind of teacher who leaves a lasting impact not only by imparting knowledge but also by motivating students to become lifelong learners and responsible individuals. This aspiration is what drives me to embrace continuous learning and remain committed to becoming a Proficient Teacher.

I view Continuing Professional Development as more than a requirement, but a lifelong commitment to excellence. By embracing continuous learning, I can grow into a Proficient Teacher who is professionally independent, reflective, and capable of providing meaningful, high-quality, and learner-centered education that empowers students to become lifelong learners and responsible members of society.

Overview of the Philippine Professional Standards for Teachers (PPST)

The Philippine Professional Standards for Teachers (PPST), which is built on NCBTS, complements the reform initiatives on teacher quality from pre-service education to in-service training.

- It articulates what constitutes teacher quality in the K to 12 Reform through well-defined domains, strands, and indicators that provide measures of professional learning, competent practice, and effective engagement.
- It makes explicit what teachers should know, be able to do and value to achieve competence, improved student learning outcomes, and eventually quality education. It is founded on teaching philosophies of learner-centeredness, lifelong learning, and inclusivity/inclusiveness, among others.
- The professional standards, therefore, become a public statement of professional accountability that can help teachers reflect on and assess their own practices as they aspire for personal growth and professional development.

Teacher Quality in the Philippines

(All documents without the PNU QM Stamp or Control Identifier are uncontrolled)

The Philippine Professional Standards for Teachers defines teacher quality in the Philippines. The standards describe the expectations of teachers' increasing levels of knowledge, practice and professional engagement. At the same time, the standards allow for teachers' growing understanding, applied with increasing sophistication across a broader and more complex range of teaching/learning situations.

The following describes the breadth of 7 Domains and the Strands that are required by teachers to be effective in the 21st Century in the Philippines. Quality teachers in the Philippines need to possess the following characteristics:

Domain 1 - Content Knowledge and Pedagogy

- recognize the importance of mastery of content knowledge and its interconnectedness within and across curriculum areas, coupled with a sound and critical understanding of the application of theories and principles of teaching and learning. They apply developmentally appropriate and meaningful pedagogy grounded on content knowledge and current research. They display proficiency in Mother Tongue, Filipino and English to facilitate the teaching and learning process, as well as exhibit the needed skills in the use of communication strategies, teaching strategies and technologies to promote high-quality learning outcomes.

Strands

1. Content knowledge and its application within and across curriculum areas
2. Research-based knowledge and principles of teaching and learning
3. Positive use of ICT
4. Strategies for promoting literacy and numeracy
5. Strategies for developing critical and creative thinking, as well as other HOTS
6. Mother Tongue, Filipino and English in teaching and learning
7. Classroom communication strategies

(All documents without the PNU QM Stamp or Control Identifier are uncontrolled)

Domain 2 – Learning Environment

- provide learning environments that are safe, secure, fair and supportive in order to promote learner responsibility and achievement. They create an environment that is learning-focused and they efficiently manage learner behavior in a physical and virtual space. They utilize a range of resources and provide intellectually challenging and stimulating activities to encourage constructive classroom interactions geared towards the attainment of high standards of learning.

Strands

1. Learner safety and security
2. Fair learning environment
3. Management of classroom structure and activities
4. Support for learner participation
5. Promotion of purposive learning
6. Management of learner behaviour

Domain 3 – Diversity of Learners

- establish learning environments that are responsive to learner diversity. They respect learners' diverse characteristics and experiences as inputs to the planning and design of learning opportunities. They encourage the celebration of diversity in the classroom and the need for teaching practices that are differentiated to encourage all learners to be successful citizens in a changing local and global environment.

Strands

1. Learners' gender, needs, strengths, interests and experiences
2. Learners' linguistic, cultural, socio-economic and religious backgrounds

(All documents without the PNU QM Stamp or Control Identifier are uncontrolled)

3. Learners with disabilities, giftedness and talents
4. Learners in difficult circumstances
5. Learners from indigenous groups

Domain 4 – Curriculum and Planning

- interact with the national and local curriculum requirements. They translate curriculum content into learning activities that are relevant to learners and based on the principles of effective teaching and learning. They apply their professional knowledge to plan and design, individually or in collaboration with colleagues, well-structured and sequenced lessons that are contextually relevant, responsive to learners' needs and incorporate a range of teaching and learning resources. They communicate learning goals to support learner participation, understanding and achievement.

Strands

1. Planning and management of teaching and learning process
2. Learning outcomes aligned with learning competencies
3. Relevance and responsiveness of learning programs
4. Professional collaboration to enrich teaching practice
5. Teaching and learning resources including ICT

(All documents without the PNU QM Stamp or Control Identifier are uncontrolled)

Domain 5 – Assessment and Reporting

- apply a variety of assessment tools and strategies in monitoring, evaluating, documenting and reporting learners' needs, progress and achievement. They use assessment data in a variety of ways to inform and enhance the teaching and learning process and programs. They provide learners with the necessary feedback about learning outcomes that informs the reporting cycle and enables teachers to select, organize and use sound assessment processes.

Strands

1. Design, selection, organization and utilization of assessment strategies
2. Monitoring and evaluation of learner progress and achievement
3. Feedback to improve learning
4. Communication of learner needs, progress and achievement to key stakeholders
5. Use of assessment data to enhance teaching and learning practices and programs

Domain 6 – Community Linkages and Professional Engagement

- establish school-community partnerships aimed at enriching the learning environment, as well as the community's engagement in the educative process. They identify and respond to opportunities that link teaching and learning in the classroom to the experiences, interests and aspirations of the wider school community and other key stakeholders. They understand and fulfil their obligations in upholding professional ethics, accountability and transparency to promote professional and harmonious relationships with learners, parents, schools and the wider community.

Strands

(All documents without the PNU QM Stamp or Control Identifier are uncontrolled)

1. Establishment of learning environments that are responsive to community contexts
2. Engagement of parents and the wider school community in the educative process
3. Professional ethics
4. School policies and procedures

Domain 7 – Personal Growth and Professional Development

- value personal growth and professional development and exhibit high personal regard for the profession by maintaining qualities that uphold the dignity of teaching such as caring attitude, respect and integrity. They value personal and professional reflection and learning to improve their practice. They assume responsibility for personal growth and professional development for lifelong learning.

Strands

1. Philosophy of teaching
2. Dignity of teaching as a profession
3. Professional links with colleagues
4. Professional reflection and learning to improve practice
5. Professional development goals
